Introduction

The concept of beautification has been an integral part of Indian civilization. The philosophy of usage of cosmetics was directed not only towards developing a pleasant and acceptable personality but for achieving happiness in life. It is documented that in 2013, the cosmeceutics market was estimated at USD $ 35 billion and is expected to growth around 7% and 9% between 2013-18 and 2020 per compound annual growth rate respectively^{4,5}. The word cosmetics, from the Greek language kosmetikos meaning adorn or embellish (for making more attractive, beautiful and decorated).¹ It is very difficult to define cosmetics in single line, According to drugs and cosmetic Act 1940, Cosmetic-“Any article intended to be rubbed, poured, sprinkled or sprayed on or introduced into or applied to any part of the human body for cleansing, beautifying, promoting attractiveness or altering the appearance and includes any article intended for use as a component of cosmetic”³.
